CENTENARY COLLEGE
SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA

Dedication

TO

formerly dean of the college for twenty-four years, we dedicate this issue of the Yoncopin as a small expression of our esteem for him as an educator and our love for him as an understanding friend.

His great spirit has guided Centenary College to its present high scholastic standards and has helped thousands of individuals to find useful places in society. Through his magnificent personality, our kindly "Dean" has won many life-long friends.

Our sorrow at losing him as dean is tempered only by our memories of the many years of faithful service he has given us.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

TO THE STUDENTS OF 1947-1948

You who have attended Centenary College this school year, have been members of the largest student body in the school's history. It is my hope that this student body will prove to be great not only in numbers but also in the quality of citizenship it brings to its home communities.

It has been the aim of the faculty to give you an education that is truly liberal, one that will help liberate your minds from any trace of prejudice and bigotry, and one which will instill into your hearts firm determination to continue your search for truth and justice in the world about you.

If you have achieved that freedom of thought and that conviction of soul, you will surely contribute greatness to the economic, social and religious life of your home communities.

Joe J. Mickle
Joe J. Mickle, President

Ernest H. Cherrington, Jr., was appointed Dean of the College upon the retirement of Dean John A. Hardin in May of 1947. Dean Cherrington came to Centenary College on May 29, 1946, after his release from the Army Air Forces, where he held the rank of major. He holds the A.B. degree, magna cum laude and the M.S. degree from Ohio Wesleyan. His Ph.D. degree in astronomy is from the University of California.

Mrs. A. R. Campbell, Dean of Women, has served in this capacity for twenty-three years. Dean Campbell received her A.B. and A.M. in English from Wellesley College. She is also Associate Professor of English.

AS THIS is the one hundred and twenty-third year since the founding of Centenary College, it is fitting that we pause to recall the days of Centenary's inception and to consider the firm foundation of ideals and traditions from which the present college derives strength and inspiration. The calm, unhurried days of the Old South may have departed forever, but the ideals of chivalry and gallantry still remain. The Southern beau and belle of the ante-bellum period find their counterpart in the modern Centenary Gentleman and his Lady, for Centenary, perhaps more than any other institution, is truly a blend of the romantic past and the progressive present.

HERE the broadened concept of modern education and the traditions of a hundred years unite to form the ideal combination of old and new. And here too in the hearts of all connected with the college may be found the best of the culture and learning of the two periods—so widely separated by the intervening years, yet so closely bound together by a common interest and a common love. THE influence of this combination may be readily discerned in the Centenary student of today, but to better picture the qualities inherited from their gallant predecessors, the Yoncopin staff presents to you two students, chosen by their fellows as most representative of that particular quality which contributes to the character of the Centenary Gentleman and Lady of yesterday and today . . .

Ground Breaking

One of the most important days in the history of Centenary College was that of Tuesday, February 17, 1948. On that day President Joe J. Mickle operated the bulldozer which moved the first earth preparatory to construction of the new $756,000 Science Hall. It is the present plan that the building be completed in time for the opening of school in the fall of 1949.

Mr. Paul M. Brown, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, was master of ceremonies for the ground breaking.

Bishop Paul E. Martin, who is pictured with President Mickle to the right, was principal speaker for the event. He spoke on the close relationship between science and religion as symbolized by the church-related college.

Other prominent guests on the program included George D. Wray, chairman of the Science Hall committee; J. K. Cannon, commanding general of the air training command; Dean Robert P. McCutchen of the graduate school of Tulane University; Robert M. Lester, of the Carnegie Foundation; W. Scott Wilkinson, president of the Shreveport Chamber of Commerce; John McW. Ford, Commissioner of Finance of the city of Shreveport, and Col. A. C. Strickland, Commanding Officer of Barksdale Field.

Pushing

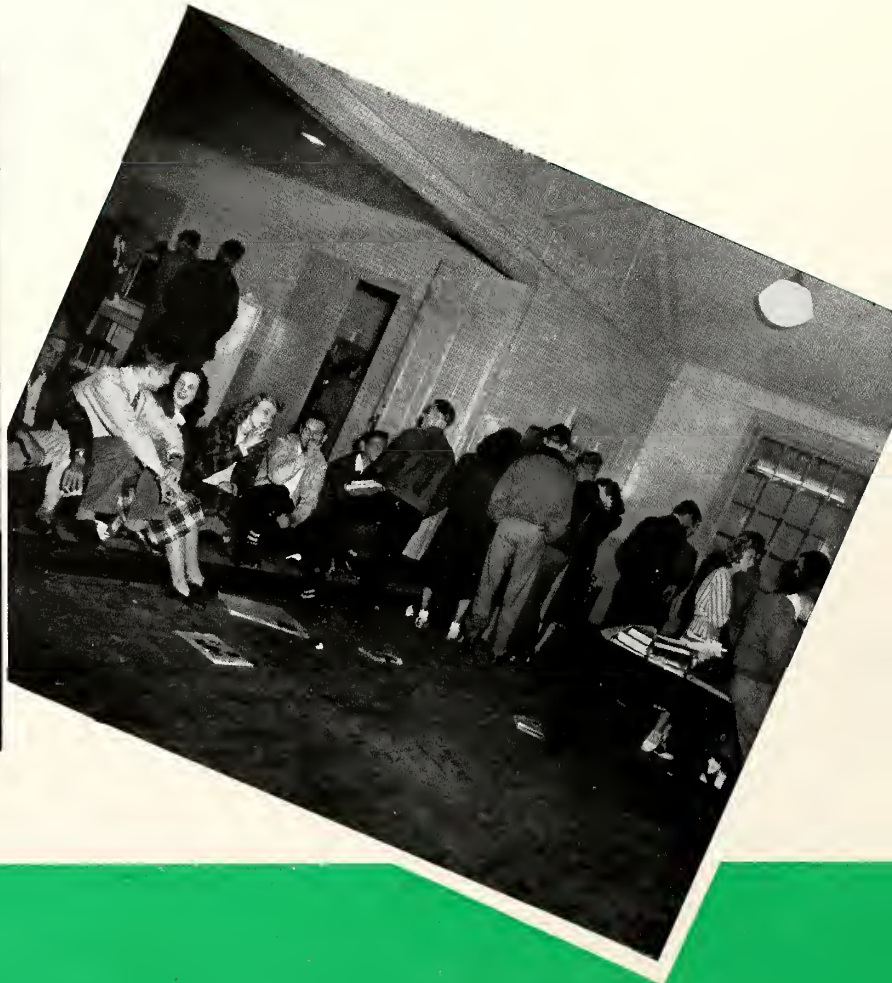

Giving the year its social impetus are the rush parties held by the fraternal organizations in September. This mad whirl of fun leaves the freshmen in a spin, and the upper-classmen with "circles." The final day of signing bids and pledging is one of joy and relief. Thus ends the "endurance contest" by which neophytes become Greeks.

Commencement

The largest graduating class in the history of the college received their degrees at commencement exercises in June 1947. Included in the 132 seniors receiving their bachelor degrees was Mrs. Carrie Schwing Tomb, who finished at the head of her class in 1900. The fact that women students were not given degrees in those days caused the award to be delayed until forty-seven years later.

The honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon Dean John A. Hardin, who retired from his post as dean after 24 years.

The honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon the Reverend Mr. J. Henry Bowdon, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Lake Charles and a member of the board of trustees.

The Baccalaureate Sermon was preached at the First Methodist Church in Shreveport, by the Reverend Mr. Robert Goodrich, a former student of Centenary College.

The Commencement Address was delivered by Dr. Amos Thornberg. Others on the program were Dr. James N. Owens and Dr. R. B. Paine, of the graduating class of 1882, who is the oldest living graduate of Centenary College.

Homecoming

Parade

Entertainment

The grid sport was resumed at Centenary in the fall of 1947 after a war-time recess. The return of pep rallies, parades, and a homecoming game brought new enthusiasm to the campus.

At the end of the season, however, the college announced that lack of financial support for subsidized football made it necessary to discontinue the sport on that basis.

The Maroon and White Gentlemen were humbled in their 1947 debut by a hard-blocking, hard-driving University of Houston eleven with a score of 19-7. The Gents' score was made on an 85-yard sprint by James Francis, 145-pound freshman, who took a Houston punt late in the second quarter and raced from his 15 to the goal. Bob Barlow's conversion gave the Gents their seventh point. Francis and Humphries stood out offensively for the Gents, with J. B. Sclifo and Barlow doing their share of the tackling. Although the Gents played their hardest to win this initial contest, the Houston Cougars proved too much for them. The fine blocking and running of the Cougars marked them as a team to watch in years to come.

A large, stylized cursive word, likely 'Foot', is written in black ink. The letter 'F' is particularly large and features a long, sweeping tail that curves under the rest of the word. The word 'oot' follows in a similar cursive style. There are three horizontal lines drawn across the middle of the word, positioned between the 'F' and the 'oot'.

The Coach

AND HIS STAFF

Head Football Coach Jess Thompson was introduced to the student body on January 12, 1947. Coach Thompson introduced Paul Cochran, his assistant for the coming year. Both coaches are from Cameron State Junior College of Lawton, Oklahoma.

Coach Thompson was a football star in college and also played professional ball with the Green Bay Packers. He holds an M.A. in physical education from Oklahoma A. & M. In 1934 he went to Cameron as assistant coach and became athletic director in 1939. During the war he served in the Navy, spending seventeen months in the Pacific.

In his initial talk to the student body, Coach Thompson said that although the team might not win all of its games the first year, it would display plenty of fight and spirit. This prediction held true, and the students of Centenary were proud of the sportsmanship and great effort on the part of the coaches and team.

The Centenary team was unable to cope with the nifty blocking of the Central State Broncos from Edmond, Oklahoma, and went down on the small end of a 20-7 score. Late in the second quarter the Gents took the ball on a kick-off and retained possession of it until a deadlock in the contest. Then, starting on their own 35 yard line, the Gents made a series of passes, the top play being a beautifully executed screen pass from Carl Brewington to Jerry Potter. Potter carried the ball to the Broncos' one-foot line for a 26-yard gain. After Brewington crashed over the goal line, Jewel Humphries converted.

The Gents thought they had the upper hand in this game, but were disillusioned as the McMurray Indians of Abilene, Texas, stormed back to overtake them. After receiving the second-half kick-off, Jerry Potter's punt gave the Gentlemen their first score. This was set up by a series of passes and wide end runs. The second touchdown came early in the fourth quarter when Eck Hunter faded back to his own 40-yard line and tossed a beautiful aerial. Jess Walton took it on the one-yard line. But when the final gun sounded, the Indians were out in front 20-12.

The Maroon and White played their first afternoon game of the season against the flashy University of Chattanooga and were tumbled again by the "Moccasins" before a home crowd of 9,000 shirt-sleeved fans. The Moccasins sent the Centenary Gents reeling with a lightning thrust early in the contest and the Gents were never able to recover from it. This 20-0 defeat was a bitter one for the Centenary team as it marked the first time they had failed to score since their return to football.

TIGERS TRAMPLE GENTS

The fourth contest for the Centenary eleven proved to be disastrous, as the Memphis State Tigers acquired their second win of the season against our team. It was a game where everything seemed to be right for the opposition and wrong for us. The Tigers used 31 players, but turned out a good performance with few mistakes. The Gents fell victim to frequent bad breaks. Their sole score was made midway of the fourth period when Hunter dashed around the left end of the five-yard line to make the final score: Memphis State, 26; Centenary, 7.

Miss Peggy Johns, of Shreveport, Louisiana, who enrolled as a junior at Centenary College in the fall of 1947, has been chosen by popular vote of the student body to serve as Miss Centenary of 1948. The requirements for election are beauty, personality, popularity, and versatility.

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS

The Student Body officers serve also as the Student Senate officers. They are elected once a year in a general election held every spring. This past year the Student Body officers journeyed to Baton Rouge for a conference on student government. This conference was designed for student officers in the Southern and Southwestern Association of Student Government to get together and discuss mutual problems and compare the specific problems on each campus with those on others.

STUDENT SENATE

The Senate is composed of five student body officers, the presidents of the four classes, a representative from the non-fraternity students, a representative from the non-sorority students, a representative from the interfraternity council, and one from the Pan-Hellenic Council. These students comprise the student governing group on the campus. It is their purpose to legislate certain measures which will be of interest to the students, represent the student body to the faculty and school authorities, and in general to make conditions more pleasant for the students. The Senate is not an all powerful organization and has definite limitations in its authority, but the influence of the Senate is often more important than the actual power to create or destroy. With student funds the Senate has provided two dances for the student body, one celebrating Homecoming, and the other for the Founder's Day picnic and holiday. The World Student Service Fund was sponsored by the Senate in connection with other campus organizations.

CENTENARY BAND

HERBERT DIEBNER

With the return of football, the Centenary Band, directed by Bill Causey, worked many hours to bring us outstanding half-time entertainment. Under the leadership of Drum Major Bill MacDaniels and Twirler Herbert Diebner, the band spirit zoomed to an all-time high as they put on an impromptu show in the rain and mud at the Central State game. The enthusiasm exhibited by the band members at football and basketball games and on parades was only a reflection of that shown by the band sweetheart, Miss Beverly Stovall and the band mascot, Billy Causey, son of the director. Other band activities during the year included a long-to-be-remembered trip to Houston, two short trips to Natchitoches and Ruston, chapel programs and concerts.

The Maroon Jacket Drum Corps was also an outstanding addition to the band on the football field and at parades.

With a trip to San Francisco as a starting point, the Centenary College Choir has made this year the greatest in its history. After singing for the Lions' International Convention and giving its first network broadcast in Frisco, the Choir broadcast again from Los Angeles and gave concerts in three cities on the trip back to Shreveport.

During the school year the Choir has appeared over 36 times in the Ark-La-Tex area. This year also marked its second season in a weekly, sponsored radio program.

Representing Centenary and Shreveport, the group sang on a nation-wide broadcast originating in Shreveport in January. They sang from the Choir Shack on the college campus—an old building remodelled by the Choir members for a rehearsal studio.

Typical of the Choir's affection for Director A. C. Voran is the fact that he is never known as "Mister Voran." To faculty, staff and students, as well as to Choir members, he is simply "Cheezy."

This summer Cheezy and the Choir will make their debut in New York, emerging as a choral group well known from coast to coast.

Maroon Jackets

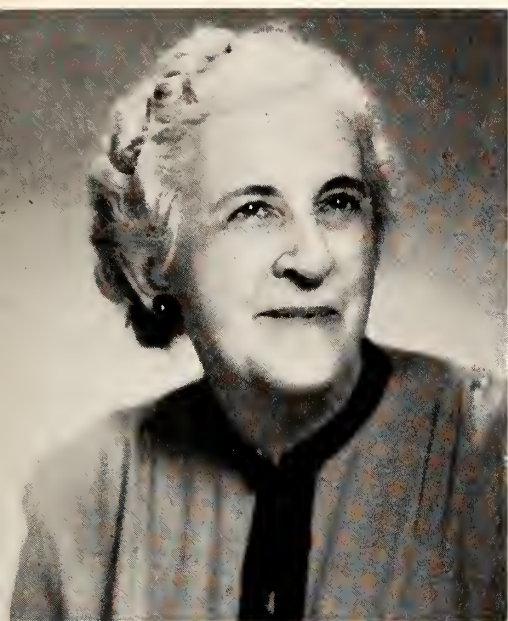

The Maroon Jackets are the official hostesses for Centenary College. Membership in this organization is tops in honors for the women of Centenary College, because there are only fifteen Maroon Jackets on the campus.

Founded in 1931, the Maroon Jackets have maintained a brilliant record of service to the college. Upholding the high ideals set for them by their sponsor, Dean Mabel Campbell, the members are outstanding in leadership, character and scholarship.

Services performed by the members for the college and for individual students include acting as guides on registration days; collecting attendance cards at chapel assemblies; and welcoming visitors to the college at all athletic or social functions.

New members of the Maroon Jackets, initiated during the spring semester, are: Buja Biggs, Ann Byrne, Lorraine Jordan, Sarah Ann Lindsay, and Catherine Sale.

Alternates for the Maroon Jackets are Ann Bowdon, Tommie Lou Guilliams, and Ann Tench Reeks.

Alpha Chi, national scholastic fraternity for upperclassmen, was installed on the Centenary campus in 1925. Membership requirements are Junior or Senior standing and a 2.7 grade average throughout their college career.

Since its founding on campus, the Alpha chapter has stood as a goal for upperclassmen who have shown scholastic excellence and as an incentive to underclassmen in their pursuit of knowledge.

The annual project of the fraternity is the presentation at honor chapel of an engraved leather notebook to the freshman selected by the group as the most outstanding scholastically and the most deserving member of his class.

give spiritual and intellectual leadership in campus movements; to help preserve the most worthwhile of campus traditions; to assist in freshman orientation and to promote co-operation among student groups.

The charter members of the society are: Dale E. Armstrong, Richard J. Barry, James H. Blackmon, Thomas H. Carter, Edward L. Foster, O. C. Edwards, Raymond

Pi Mu Sigma, the pre-medical fraternity, is one of the oldest organizations on the campus. It was founded in 1925 under the sponsorship of Dr. I. Maizlish. This club is now under the sponsorship of Dr. Mary Warters.

In order that a student be received as a member he or she must have first a sincere desire to enter the field of medicine. This must be supplemented by a B average in science and an over all C average in all other courses. Also the member must be submitted to an initiation ritual and must prepare a fifteen hundred word theme on any subject concerning medicine or disease.

During the year Pi Mu Sigma contributes annually one or more books on some medical subject to the library.

For programs the members of Pi Mu Sigma are privileged to hear interesting and informative discussions by physicians selected from those practicing in Shreveport. Programs of this type have done much to stimulate and inspire pre-medical students in their present studies and in their work to come.

The Centenary "C" Club became active this year for the first time since 1941. The "C" Room was re-decorated and is used as a general meeting place for all athletes. Membership may be earned by gaining a letter in an intercollegiate sport. Some of the activities of the "C" Club during the past year have been an open house for alumni members on Home Coming Day, a dance celebrating Centenary's victory over Louisiana College, and the sponsoring of the home basketball game concessions.

 JANET CRAWFORD Parliamentarian and Sergeant-at-Arms

"We the students of the art department of Centenary College, in order to promote greater interest and broader experiences in the field of art, wish to declare ourselves an organization, feeling that in doing so we will realize a higher realm of the aesthetic and the cultural.

It is therefore our most earnest desire to have a great wealth of knowledge, understanding and experiences in this field to better understand the cultural heritage of our race, to recognize and appreciate all kinds of art and its creators.
 For aid in the pursuance of these aims, we do now establish the following constitution."

 The preceding paragraph contains the preamble to the constitution of the Art Students' League.
 Last fall they went down Red River in Mr. Brown's river boat sketching typical Louisiana scenery. Excursions were also made to Cross Lake and Caddo Lake.

In February Dr. John Scales, Jr., showed the students his technicolor film on Louisiana which showed them how many interesting and beautiful "objets d'art" were in our own state.

In the Spring the League will sponsor art exhibits at the Louisiana State Exhibit Building. The students' own work will also be on display in which styles and techniques vary from impressionism, naturalism, to cubism, surrealism and non-objective art. These exhibits are always open to the student body as well as members of the League.

With the debate question, "Resolved: that a federal world government should be established," the Centenary chapter of Pi Kappa Delta had both an exciting and educational year.

The season was begun with a warm-up meet at Millsaps College, in Jackson, Mississippi. At this tournament the club won over half its debates and gained much experience. Plans were then made for the Azalea tournament at Mobile, Alabama, but cold weather stood in the way. A joint adventure was undertaken whereby half of the club went to the Northwestern meet and the other half to Georgetown, Kentucky, to the Blue Grass tournament. A good showing was made at both of these tournaments. The year was concluded with the regional meeting of Pi Kappa Delta in San Antonio.

Members: Dick Bartholomew, Robert H. Briggs, O. C. Edwards, Glen F. Graves, Nathan Joyner, William Parker, Charles A. Raines, Quinton Raines, Robert Regan, John E. Thomas.

Organized in October, 1946, the Centenary Dramatics Club has had a very active and successful year. One of its projects has been to remodel the inside of the Dramatics Workshop, enlarging and improving the stage. The plays produced this year, "My Sister Eileen," "The Show - Off," "Death Takes a Holiday," and

"The Male Animal," were all enthusiastically received by the audience. Joseph Gifford, director of speech and drama department, guided the members in the work of the club and directed the productions. He was assisted by Miss Eva Spence, teacher of public speaking.

The Dormitory Council of Rotary Hall is a governing body composed of the executive officers and a representative from each class. The advisors are Mrs. A. R. Campbell, Dean of Women, and Mrs. W. S. Row, hostess of the dormitory. The council meets weekly to discuss any problems or business affairs arising which concern the occupants of the dormitory. Democratic in its representation and ideals, the organization proposes to promote good conduct, foster the interests of its members and enforce dormitory rules. Along the social line the dormitory girls entertain with two open houses yearly, one in the fall and one during the spring semester. The girls of Rotary Hall always welcome the day students to their domicile, for there is always a bridge game or time to chat. The Dormitory Council, as the governing body of the out-of-town girls, endeavors to uphold the ideals and traditions of Centenary College.

 PADDY ANN DOLL Secretary-Treasurer

The Sigma Pi Sigma received their national charter at Centenary College on April 20, 1927. A national physics honor society, this organization serves as a means of recognition for superior scholarship in physics, that would bring those particularly interested in this science into closer association and would encourage and stimulate them in their scientific work, and which would thereby bring about a greater cooperation between instructor and student for the benefit of both.

Ernest H. Cherrington, Jr., and John S. Urban are the sponsors.

Members: Roy John Bolen, Paddy Ann Doll, John Henry Evans, Julian P. Hatcher, Sherman Kottle, Robert D. McCook, Fred Schwartzberg, William B. Scott, Albert Ray Turner, Beverly Turner.

This organization, founded in 1921, is the result of the fine work of Dr. George Sexton. Under the able leadership of Dean R. E. Smith, this group has worked as a common bond between the ministerial students of all Protestant faiths. At the present, plans are being made to sponsor an interdenominational chapel on the river front in Shreveport. This will be for those underprivileged people who are now without the benefit of clergy.

The beginning of the year 1948 found the local organization transformed into a chapter of Kappa Chi, the national ministerial club. On the first Friday of every month, the meetings are held. These consist of a business session, followed by a short devotional program by various clergymen of the city.

Meetings are held on Sunday night at 6:00 o'clock in the Chi Omega sorority house on Centenary Campus. There is an evening prayer, a business meeting, and a social get-together.

The meetings of this organization vary, there is a corporate communion monthly after which breakfast is served, a dinner meeting when a special guest is present, and the regular Sunday night fellowship.

There are Canterbury Clubs, not only throughout the United States, but also in Canada and England. Conventions are held for the various clubs in different states at which officers for the year are elected. The convention this year is to be held on the Louisiana State University campus. Twelve members of the Centenary Canterbury Club plan to attend this meeting. Dr. Sixbey, a member of the Centenary College faculty, is advisor for this group.

This popular non-Greek society has taken a very active part in the activities of the campus this year. It has members in almost all of the extra-curricular activity organizations. Its members and pledges enjoyed a week-end party in September at the home of their Honorary Mother, Mrs. W. G. Michaels of Marshall, Texas. The girls of Au Fait led off the dances of the social organizations with a successful Thanksgiving Dance.

Founded in 1939 on the Centenary Campus, its colors are Green and White, its Flower, the White Gardenia.

The Kappa Alphas have again reaped a lion's share of the campus honors. Such outstanding achievements rarely happen for a single fraternity in a school year. It is justly proud of the many members who have won fame and acclaim in their several fields of endeavor both for themselves and for their fraternity. There are few, if any, phases of campus activity in which the K. A.'s are not serving with distinction. This year the three male student body officers are the corresponding three top fraternity officers, two male cheer-leaders were K. A.'s, four of eight men selected for membership in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges are K. A.'s, the Centenary Gentleman, Most Versatile Boy, Most Popular Boy, the President of the Freshman Class, and the President and Treasurer of the Senior Class are but a few to mention of the honors and offices held by members of this recognized fraternity.

Interfraternity competition has furnished many pleasant highlights to the regular social and academic calendar. This year the football championship which was lost for the first time last year was returned to the Boys Across The Street. Kappa Alpha has consistently maintained the highest scholastic average of all fraternities on this campus for many years and this was no exception.

It participated in the expansion of the order by conducting the initiation for the new chapter at Louisiana Tech. It is certainly proud to have had the opportunity of assisting in this growth, especially here in North Louisiana where it has been the only chapter for years.

This past year has witnessed the formation of the K. A. Mothers Club, that tireless group who have worked hard to provide the house with furnishings and fixtures. Their contribution to the K. A.'s position on the campus has been immeasurable, and for that we are grateful. The Kappa Alpha Alumni have been organized into

KAPPA SIGMA

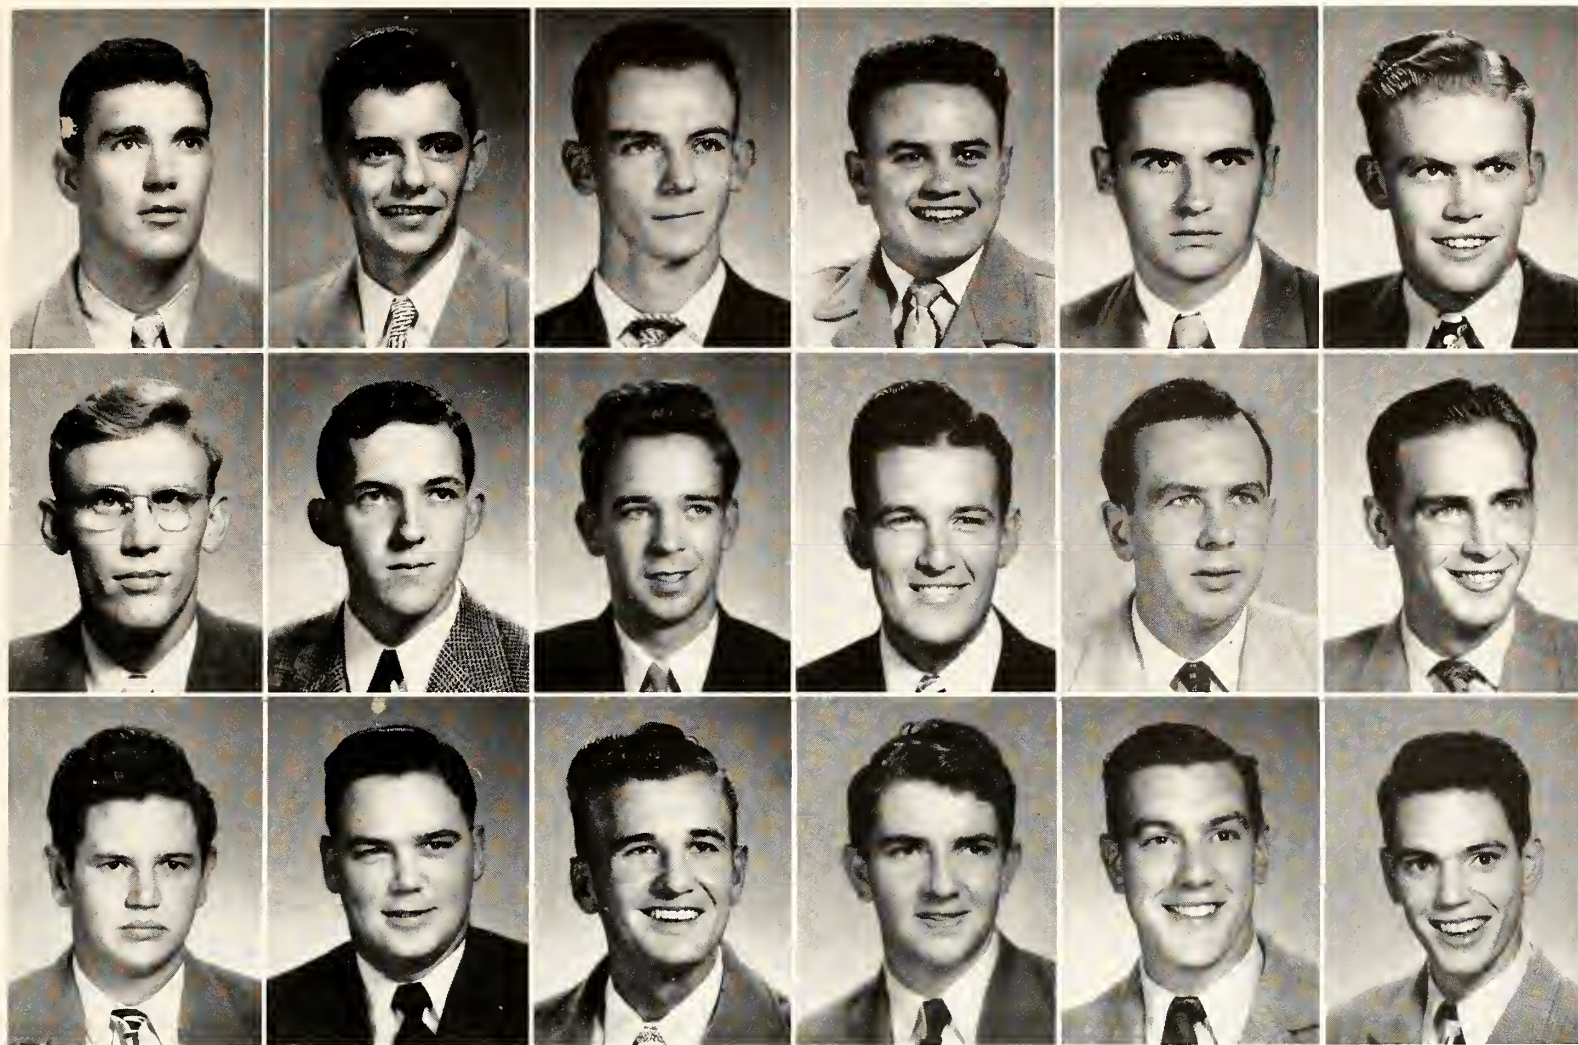

The Kappa Sigma fraternity was founded December 10, 1869, at the University of Virginia. Of the initiates at Virginia during the session of 1872-1873, the most important in the later history of the fraternity was Stephen A. Jackson, who embodied in the Kappa Sigma ritual the European tradition, which takes the fraternity back in spirit to the University of Bologna in the year 1400 and the founding there of a society of students for mutual protection against the governor of the city, Balthasar Cassa.

The society spread to other European universities, and its traditions descended through many of the noble families of the continent to make connection with one of the early members of the Kappa Sigma fraternity who was visiting in Europe.

Although Kappa Sigma now has 113 active chapters in over half the prominent colleges and universities of the United States and Canada, Epsilon Chapter, fifth in the Greek alphabet, was established as Centenary's first fraternity on the old campus at Jackson, Louisiana, on August 29, 1885. The charter was surrendered in 1904. So outstanding, however, was this chapter that for 54 years the executive committee of the fraternity refused to grant the name of Epsilon to any other institution with the hope that some day Centenary would reach a point in its expansion that would justify the re-installation of this chapter. This occurred on the anniversary of its first installation, August 29, 1939, when Sigma Phi fraternity on the campus was granted a charter reviving the Epsilon chapter of Kappa Sigma.

They are as follows: Betty Fletcher, senior; Tommie Lou Guilliams, junior; Joyce Hardin, sophomore; Nell Richardson, freshman. Founded March 22, 1909, at Boston University, it now has 114 active chapters in the United States and three active chapters in Canada.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Alpha Beta chapter was reactivated at Centenary on September 16, 1947, after being dormant for 42 years, through the absorption of Nu Kappa, outstanding local fraternity. The "Pikes" have 87 chapters throughout the country, with at least 20 more locals under consideration.

One big tradition of the fraternity is the spring formal in honor of the "Dream Girl of II K A." Mrs. Helen Hope Sixbey is the chapter "Dream Girl for Life."

Pi Kappa Alpha was founded at the University of Virginia in 1868.

Pi Kappa Alpha is proud to have as members on the Faculty—Dr. J. J. Mickle, President of Centenary College, and Dr. George L. Sixbey.

Officers

HARRY LAZARUS	President

HARRY JARRED	Secretary
MALCOLM FRIDGE	Treasurer

The council is composed of three representatives from each of the four fraternities and one faculty advisor. The officers are provided by each fraternity in a four-year rotation system. The primary purpose of the council is to perpetuate the fraternity system at Centenary. The council serves as the governing body for all the fraternities on the campus and is practically sovereign in its legislation due to the broad powers given it by the school authorities. The establishment of rules, hearing controversial matters between fraternities, representing the fraternities to the college, investigating new fraternities desirous of entering the campus are among the duties of the council.

The bonfires for pep rallies during football season were prepared by the council in an effort to increase school spirit. Interfraternity athletics provide competition between the fraternities and provide an interesting supplement to the regular intramural program of the college.

Robert A. Moody is the faculty sponsor.

ALPHA XI DELTA

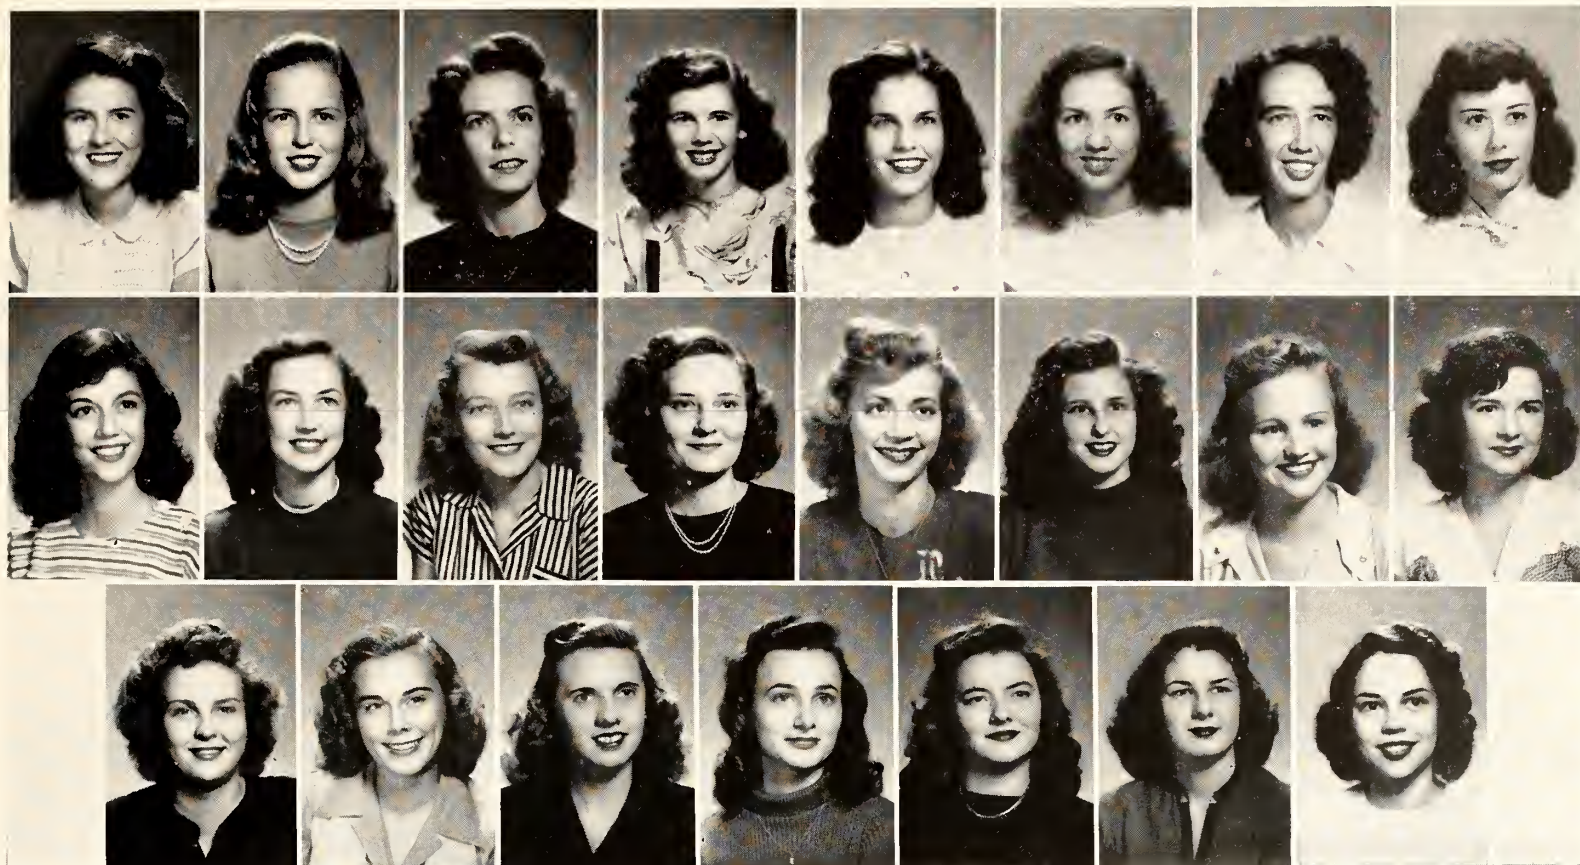

Beta Gamma Chapter was established on this campus March 28, 1931. The long line of chapters, now numbering sixty-five, found their first home in Galesburg, Illinois, at Lombard College.

Their pin is a golden quill; the Killarney rose their lovely flower, and double blue and gold their colors.

The members take an active part in school functions, but the "Little Brown House" always seems to be full of activity and fun. Betty Downs proved herself an able leader in the role of president this year.

Recognized by their gray skirts and turquoise sweaters, representing the colors of the sorority, the girls of Zeta Tau Alpha again won their share of honors of the campus with Rose Audrey Randall wielding the gavel during the year.

This sorority was founded in 1898. Virginia State Normal College was its birth place. Beta Iota, the chapter on the Centenary campus, was founded in 1927. Zeta's chapters now number eighty-one, with the sorority in the international group.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

Chi stands for Centenary; Sigma, for Shreveport. So was named the forty-fifth active chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi, national sorority which celebrated its Golden Jubilee in 1947.

Founded at Barnard College, Columbia University, in 1897, Alpha Omicron Pi is marked by a simplicity unusual in Greek-letter societies. This is seen in the absence of a crest and in the single fraternity color, cardinal. The flower is the Jacqueminot rose, and the jewel, the ruby. At Centenary A O Pi is well represented in all campus activities. The group is now planning its house, which is scheduled to be completed by next fall.

Chi Sigma sent an outstanding contribution to the sorority's philanthropic work, the social service division of the Frontier Nursing Service in Kentucky. This includes all types of help for the people of the practically inaccessible portions of the Kentucky mountains.

Members and pledges of Alpha Omicron Pi are Jean Bentley, Marjorie Bogue, Ann Bowdon, Norma Britain, Ann Byrne, Mary Jane Callahan, Martha Julia Haley, Mary Holtzclaw, Loraine Jordan, Louise Lowe, Carolyn McKinney, Colleen Moore, Betty Moppert, Alice Murray, Jackie Rembert, Catherine Sale, Laura Ann Taylor and Martha Zagst.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Pan-Hellenic Council is the co-ordinating organization for the sororities on the Centenary campus. Its primary purpose is to regulate rushing and maintain a cooperative spirit among the sororities.

Initiation of the preferential bid system for rushing is among the major accomplishments of the 1947-48 Pan-Hellenic Council. This system is planned to simplify and shorten rushing and to make the rush season more pleasant for sorority members and rushees.

A constitution was drawn up by the Centenary Council, with working constitutions from other councils used as guides.

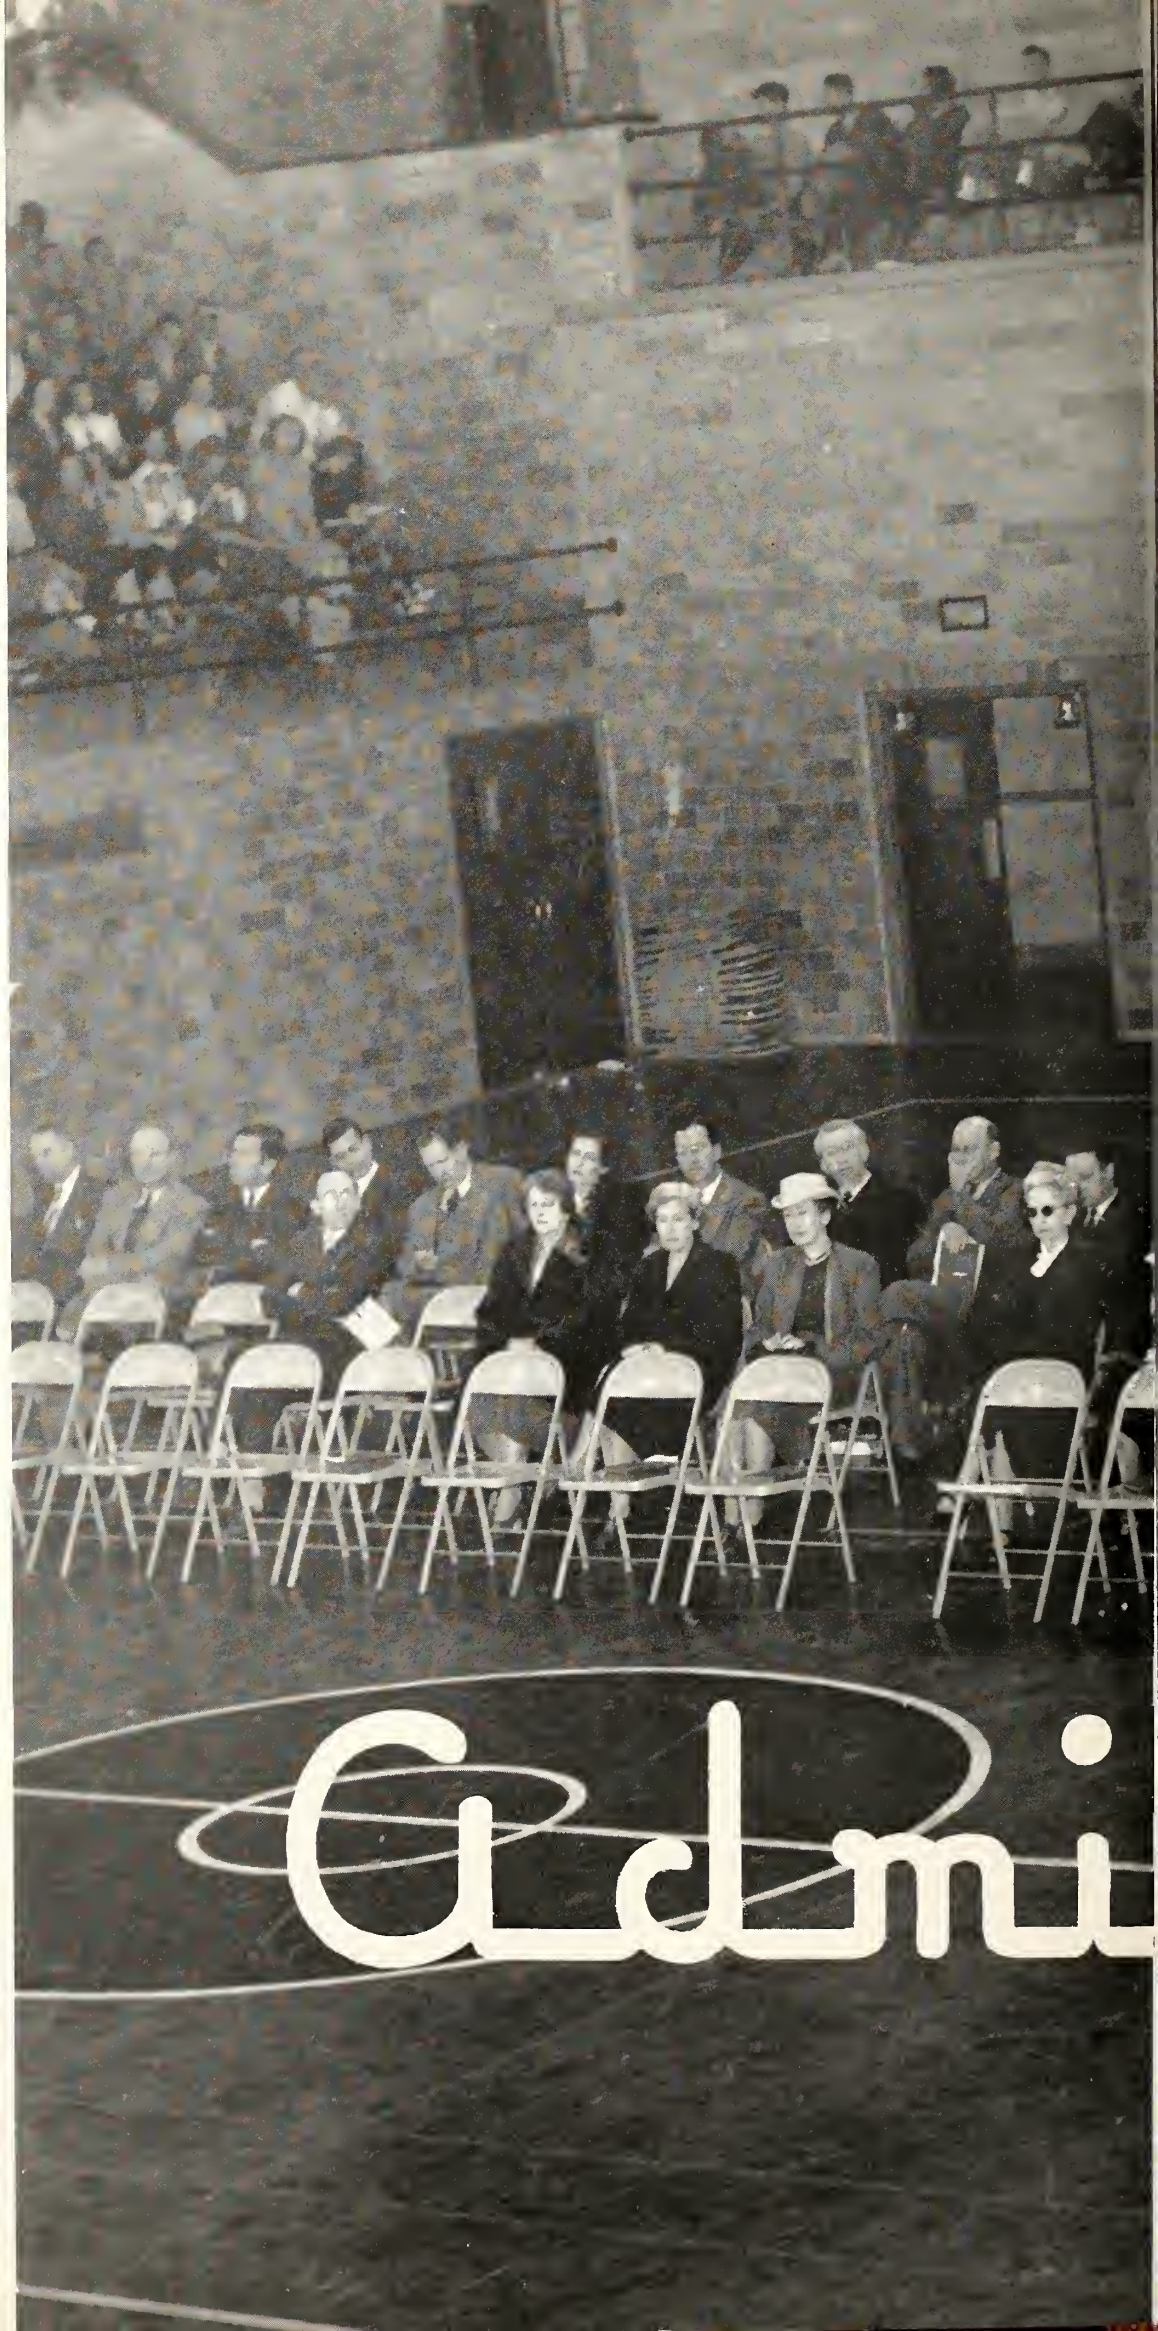

The addition of an alumnae adviser from each sorority to the Pan-Hellenic Council is another innovation of this year. The advisers act as mediators between the Centenary Council and the Shreveport Pan-Hellenic.

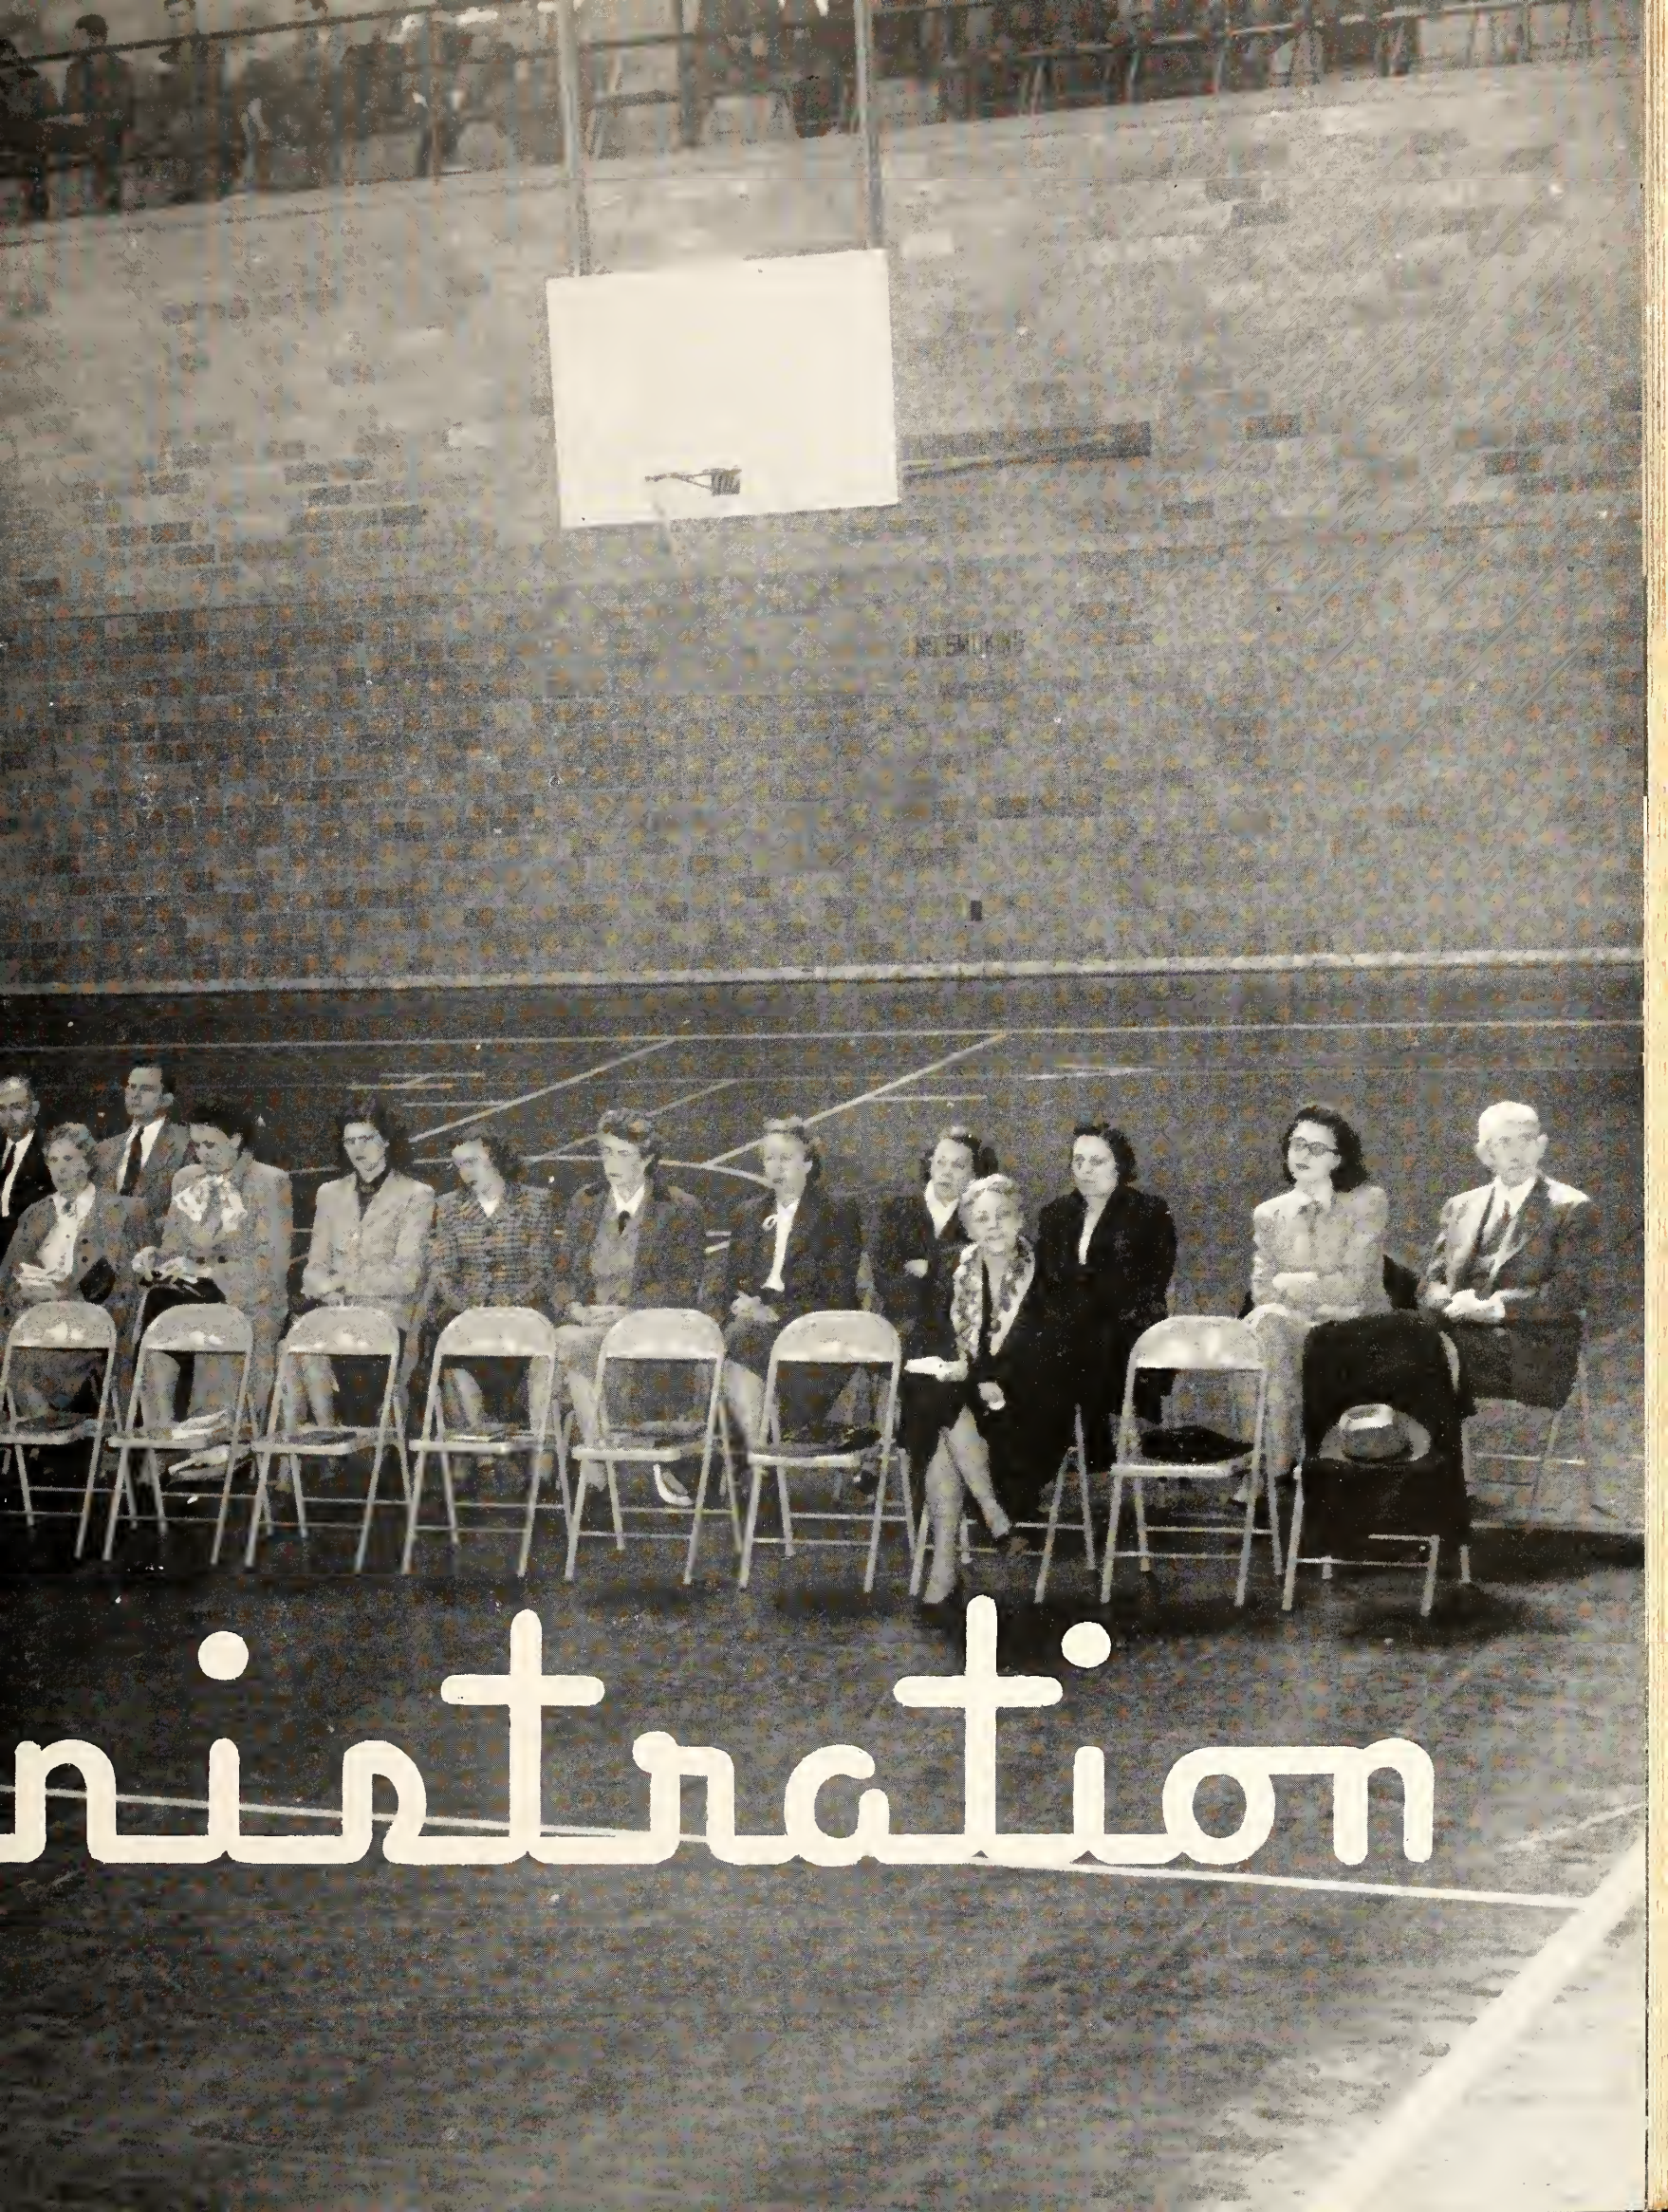

Members of the Pan-Hellenic Council for 1947-48 are Ann Byrne, June Despot, Betty Downs, Jean Marie Entrikin, Bettye Fletcher, Betty Flournoy, Jackie Gaines, Martha Julia Haley, Lel Hamner, Loraine Jordan, Sally Lindsay, Louise Lowe, Sharon Miracle, Shirley Petree, Rose Audrey Randall and Pattie Jean Warren.

THE RESPONSIBILITY OF EDUCATION

Aristotle was fond of saying that education is an ornament in prosperity and a refuge in adversity. In addition to its benefits to the individual, education bestows the burden of responsibility. For the future of our country depends in large measure upon the graduates of our colleges and universities.

As a bank, we have an important responsibility to our community. For the success or failure of any business depends upon soundly conceived financing. It is this principle that governs our banking operations.
